4.0 General

4.1 An accident or injury at work, however trivial it may appear at the time, must be reported to the Clerk. Details of the accident should be recorded in the Accident Book held by the Clerk. In the event of an accident which requires First Aid treatment, assistance should be available from a First Aider (if available). If it is necessary to call an ambulance, dial 999 for the emergency services. On no account should a person who appears to be seriously injured be moved unless it is essential to do so for reasons of personal safety.

4.2 There is legislation covering the control of substances hazardous to health (COSHH) which requires that all substances used in the workplace must be assessed in order to identify the risk to health. Where appropriate these should be stored separately and safely.

4.3 All electrical equipment must be maintained to prevent danger. Electrical inspections shall be carried out and checked to comply with National Inspection Council for Electrical Installation Contractors (NICEIC) standards.

4.5 Lone members of staff should not arrange to meet unknown contacts except in public places. In respect of their duties, all members of staff should provide details to another person of where they are going, the purpose of the visit and their anticipated time of return.

4.6 Aggressive Situations - It is recognised that some employees may be subjected to aggression because of the job that they do. Situations resulting in verbal abuse or anti-social behaviour, as well as physical assault, must be reported to the Clerk to identify possible remedial action.
